The Cart Barn and The Smiddy, 'The Square', Roshven, Scotland.

The Cart Barn (OS map reference 56* 50' 33"N 5*45' 25" W), the post code is PH38 4NB but beware most satellite navigation systems do not get you to us!), is in the village of Roshven some 5 miles off the A830 'Road to the Isles' as you drive onto the Ardnamurchan peninsula.

To reach The Cart Barn from Fort William, take the A830 in the direction of Mallaig. Pass through Glenfinnan, if you have time take in the monument and now famous railway bridge. When you reach Lochailort, just past the Hotel, take the left hand turn onto the A861. This will take you to Roshven. You will see the sign for Roshven Farm on your right, count the fifth entrance on your right after this and that is the track to take to (.6 of a mile from the 'Farm' sign) The Cart Barn and The Smiddy. Deer fencing will help you locate this and as you turn in a sign on a large rock will confirm that you have reached 'The Square'. Drive down the track passing The Mill on your right. Upon reaching the bend to the left, with a white cottage in front of you; turn right over the wooden bridge which crosses the burn. The Smiddy and The Cart Barn are straight ahead of you!

If you are travelling from the Isle of Skye, you simply travel east from Mallaig along the A830 until you reach Lochailort. Here you take the right turn down the A861 and follow directions as above.

If you are travelling from either The Isle of Mull or have come on the Corran Ferry over Loch Linnhe at Nether Lochaber just off the A82, you will take the A861 towards Salen and then on through Acharacle, eventually reaching the sign for the village of Glen Uig. Once here you are some 4 miles from Roshven. After you see the sign for the village followed by Westfield and then the new entrance to Roshven House on your left, we are the next left.

When you arrive over the bridge, drive between The Cart Barn and The Smiddy (a renovated bothy where the estate horses used to be shod). Parking for up to three cars is available behind on either side. This also provides easy access to the main entrance for unloading which you will see immediately you arrive.

Caledonian MacBrayne runs the ferry services from Mull to the Ardnamurchan and on their website www.calmac.co.uk you can find all timetables and fares. This website also gives details of the Corran ferry link run by Highland Council on the Ardgour, Nether Lochaber route.

It is also possible to travel to Lochailort by train having taken the sleeper to Fort William. We can arrange to meet the train for Visitors wishing to arrive in such style! For those flying into Glasgow or Inverness, car hire options are plentiful and a train service from Glasgow to Mallaig operates all year round together with a coach service from both cities to Fort William.
